

National Postal Forum presents INTELLIGENT MAIL® University

ADDISON, IL | LOS ANGELES, CA | ATLANTA, GA | NEW YORK, NY

National Postal Forum Presents Intelligent Mail University

Please join us for a comprehensive day of Intelligent Mail education.

- Learn about the Postal Service's Intelligent Mail May 2009 implementation.
- Gain a thorough understanding of what you need to do to ensure your organization is ready to make the most of the Intelligent Mail barcodes.
- Hear how Intelligent Mail barcodes drive improvements in both service and efficiency, and add more value to your mail.

The symposiums will provide you with a unique opportunity to hear from the experts, learn about the new requirements and get answers to some of your questions such as:

- What are the new requirements for using Intelligent Mail barcodes?
- How can I implement the Intelligent Mail barcode in my operation?
- Will I need to invest in new equipment or modify my operational processes?
- Where can I find help in transitioning to this new technology?

Featuring expert Intelligent Mail speakers provided by the United States Postal Service®.

A full day of Intelligent Mail information will be presented from 8am - 5pm at the following locations:
